THE VIOLIN

Dear Parishioners,

In Belfast I have been reading about the Troubles, a time of violence and social upheaval in Belfast, Northern Ireland. My eyes are sore from reading books about all the tragedy, pain, bombings and reprisals. As one taxi driver eloquently summed up nearly everyone's sentiments 25 years after the Good Friday Agreement: "We are just thankful they are not shooting each other. All you want is for your children to live and be happy." But more on this theme when I return to Australia's sundrenched shores.

Before Northern Ireland was partitioned from the rest of the island of Ireland in 1921, Belfast was a modern powerhouse with the two great industries of producing fine linen and building grand ocean liners. On the Belfast dockyards the company Harland and Wolff produced hundreds of ships, but most of all the Olympic transatlantic liners, and most of all the Titanic!

I'm not good on remembering measurements, but from what I saw in the Titanic Museum and what I read about the way it was built, this was a gigantic monster of an iron ship!!!

But we all know how nature is a truly powerful force and not to be underestimated. And we all know the tragic story of the Titanic coming off second best in a clash with an iceberg in the North Atlantic ocean in the early morning of 15 April 1912. There were many tragic errors connected to the sinking, for example, the misplacing of binoculars for the sailors on the watch from the front of the ship and the decision not to slow down in such dangerous waters so that there was no time to stop and completely avoid the iceberg.

Other ships in the vicinity received the distress signals of the Titanic and came to save 713 desperate people, but 1,512 people were lost.

Among the articles retrieved, which I saw at the Titanic exhibition in Belfast, was the violin of Wallace Hartley. He was one of the heroic musicians who realising the desperate situation played music to comfort passengers and crew as they faced the worst. The violin was a gift from his fiancée Maria Robertson. His body was recovered ... His violin is revered as a testament to his courage and humanity.

There is always someone, even at greatest personal cost, to give a consoling light in the engulfing darkness.

God bless you all,

Fr Bernard

THIS WEEK'S READINGS & COMMENTARY

Entrance Antiphon

Cf Psalm 37:22-23

Forsake me not, O Lord, my God;
be not far from me!
Make haste and come to my help,
O Lord, my strong salvation!

First Reading

Malachi 1:14 – 2:2. 8-10

A reading from the prophet Malachi

You have strayed from the way, you have caused many to stumble by your teaching.

I am a great king, says the Lord of hosts, and my name is feared throughout the nations. And now, priests, this warning is for you. If you do not listen, if you do not find it in your heart to glorify my name, says the Lord of hosts, I will send the curse on you and curse your very blessing. You have strayed from the way; you have caused many to stumble by your teaching. You have destroyed the covenant of Levi, says the Lord of hosts. And so I in my turn have made you contemptible and vile in the eyes of the whole people in repayment for the way you have not kept to my paths but have shown partiality in your administration.

Have we not all one Father? Did not one God create us? Why, then, do we break faith with one another, profaning the covenant of our ancestors?

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 130

(R.) In you, Lord, I have found my peace.

1. O Lord, my heart is not proud
nor haughty my eyes.
I have not gone after things too great nor marvels beyond me. (R.)

2. Truly I have set my soul
in silence and peace.
A weaned child on its mother's breast,
even so is my soul. (R.)

3. O Israel, hope in the Lord
both now and for ever. (R.)

Second Reading

1 Thessalonians 2:7-9. 13

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Thessalonians

We were eager to hand over to you not only the Good News but our lives as well.

Like a mother feeding and looking after her own children, we felt so devoted and protective towards you, and had come to love you so much, that we were eager to hand over to you not only the Good News but our whole lives as well. Let me remind you, brothers, how hard we used to work, slaving night and day so as not to be a burden on any one of you while we were proclaiming God's Good News to you.

Another reason why we constantly thank God for you is that as soon as you heard the message that we brought you as God's message, you accepted it for what it really is, God's message and not some human thinking; and it is still a living power among you who believe it.

Gospel Acclamation

Matthew 23:9. 10

Alleluia, alleluia!

You have one Father, your Father in heaven;
you have one teacher: the Lord Jesus Christ.
Alleluia!

Gospel

Matthew 23:1-12

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

They do not practise what they preach.

Addressing the people and his disciples Jesus said, 'The scribes and the Pharisees occupy the chair of Moses. You must therefore do what they tell you and listen to what they say; but do not be guided by what they do: since they do not practise what they preach. They tie up heavy burdens and lay them on men's shoulders, but will they lift a finger to move them? Not they! Everything they do is done to attract attention, like wearing broader phylacteries and longer tassels, like wanting to take the place of honour at banquets and the front seats in the synagogues, being greeted obsequiously in the market squares and having people call them Rabbi.

'You, however, must not allow yourselves to be called Rabbi, since you have only one Master, and you are all brothers. You must call no one on earth your father, since you have only one Father, and he is in heaven. Nor must you allow yourselves to be called teachers, for you have only one Teacher, the Christ. The greatest among you must be your servant. Anyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and anyone who humbles himself will be exalted.'

Communion Antiphon

Cf Psalm 15:11

You will show me the path of life,
the fullness of joy in your presence, O Lord.

REFLECTION by Fr Michael Tate

Titles and Burdens

There have been periods in the church's history where the burdens placed on the shoulders of people – particularly an exaggerated sense of guilt for certain sins – truly weighed people down, creating a terrible sense of unworthiness, leading to the living of distorted lives.

Our Lord makes it clear that leaders cannot evade responsibility for this by hiding behind honorific titles.

In the Gospels, we find the One who said: 'Come to me all you who toil and are burdened and I will refresh you. Take my yoke upon you and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden light.' (Matt 11:28-30)

If people don't find that the burden laid on them by Church leaders (who often long to be greeted obsequiously) leads to refreshment and rest for their souls, then it is right to question the burden, and to question the leaders who impose such burdens.

Perhaps we could pause for a moment to pray for Pope Francis whose favoured titles are simply: 'Bishop of Rome', 'Servant of the Servants of God'.
